Neptune: Realizing the Freedom of Peace

The archetype of Pisces including Neptune, the 12th house and the sign of Pisces remains one of the biggest mysteries in astrology despite the fact that it is a pillar in the understanding of astrology. Many definitions have been attributed to it such as, “the unconscious”, “the hidden enemies”, “the confined places”, or “the spiritual aspirations”, and although true in themselves, these fragmented definitions have only caused more confusion. The 12th house in its essence represents the root of every psychological complex because it is from where all things originate and where they conclude.

Spiritually speaking, the Pisces archetype contains the ultimate solution for our existence—through it, one may finally attain the freedom of peace in the midst of life’s tumult and complexities.

Join Maurice in this workshop and apply these concepts to your own chart: find out your personal path to master peace and find true freedom.
